PAPER ENOUGH FOR BOSTON

Supply of Newsprint Adequate Despite Strike of Pulp Mill Workers

Boston is assured of enough newsprint paper for all its newspapers, despite the strike of pulp, magazine and paper mill workers, in the mill in the United States as regards the supply of newsprint.

As declared President John P. Burke of the International Brotherhood of Paper Mill Workers and Paper Magazine Workers, in a report of a recent conference of the committee of the United States Paper Mill Workers' Association, the strike of the mill workers in the United States as regards the supply of newsprint is not a serious matter.

According to Burke, thousands of tons of newsprint are being stored in the United States, and the strike of the mill workers in the United States as regards the supply of newsprint is not a serious matter.

CARMEN CLAIM LIVING IS HIGH

Cost Will Rise Again Soon, Says Expert at Hearing on Bay State Wage

Albert R. Butcher, professor of street railway engineering at Worcester Polytechnic Institute, is expected to be called as a witness by the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts street railway company at the continued wage arbitration hearing today before the State Board.

Only three witnesses had testified at the hearing and it was stated that the union men would call three others to testify today.

Arthur L. Sturgis of Brookline, an economist, testified yesterday that the cost of living during the past year had been a record drop in costs generally he believed it was of the regular order of season events. He doubted that it would be permanent and said he believed cost of food and clothing would ascend shortly.

WANT TIME TO WASH

Attorney James H. Vahlgren, counsel for the union, argued that the present wages should not be disturbed "responsive of the ability or inability of the company to pay dividends."

August Anderson, a motor worker at the Lowell ship for twenty-five years, favored the security rate, time and a half for holidays and holidays and overtime, and twenty minutes a day for the rolling stock men to wash up.

Mr. Anderson said that giving the men twenty minutes a day had cut the company $10,000 last year.

LET OUR SILHOUETTE GUIDE YOU

Why You Save by Shopping in This Shop

There are three primal reasons—and several secondary ones.

In the first place, our buying is done by a man of long experience, who deals directly with producing resources—who knows how to find lowest prices and highest standards.

In the second place, our selling is done by women-who-know—who know how to protect the interests of our patrons.

In the third place, our volume of business is growing briskly without corresponding expense. That permits better and better values every blessed day!

It May Be So

Every now and then some one rises to remark that retail prices in general have not been fully adjusted to the new normal basis, and that this condition is helping to delay a revival of business.

Perhaps they're right, for we know that very few stores had the courage to set their house in order, clean out their high-cost merchandise and take their losses as we did last fall and winter.

And we also know that at this Live Store, with the past all behind us, with all new, high-grade, attractive stocks at the new low price level, we find business to be good—decidedly good.

In fact, our only difficulty now is to find enough Good Clothes to supply the demand.

Kuppenheimer Suits

are $35, $40, $45, $50

That price range on these standard, known quality clothes is conclusive evidence of the normalcy now prevailing in this Live Store and in The House of Kuppenheimer as well. Nowhere else that we know of can you get anything that even approximates Kuppenheimer style and quality at these moderate prices.

Good Suits at $25 and $30

The fabrics are all wool. The patterns new and handsome. The tailoring is extremely well done. We doubt if you can find their equals under $10.00 more anywhere else.

Stocks Rise in New York and React When Traders Sell to Realize Quick Profits

RAILS AND OILS LED ADVANCE

Philadelphia, May 6.—The New York stock market today was characterized by a general advance in the early part of the session, followed by a reaction when traders sold to realize quick profits. The market was particularly strong in the railroads and oil stocks.

Mercury

It was a fine day in the city of Boston, and the people were all out for a walk. A man in a suit and hat, who was known to all as the "Mercury" man, was walking down the street. He was carrying a large bag of newspapers, and he was looking at the people as he walked. He saw a man in a suit and hat, who was walking towards him. The man in the suit and hat was looking at the "Mercury" man, and he was smiling. The "Mercury" man was also smiling, and he was waving his hand. The man in the suit and hat was walking towards the "Mercury" man, and he was talking to him. The "Mercury" man was listening to the man in the suit and hat, and he was nodding his head. The man in the suit and hat was walking away from the "Mercury" man, and he was looking back at him. The "Mercury" man was also looking back at him, and he was smiling. The man in the suit and hat was walking away from the "Mercury" man, and he was looking back at him. The "Mercury" man was also looking back at him, and he was smiling.
